Another Word from Our Founder

Ladies, Gentlemen, and Other Beings,

Welcome to the greatest shop in the multiverse. Our Summer Catalogue seems to have taken the world by storm, and it is now time for us to follow-up on that, as we launch our Autumn collection.

This particular piece came to me while I was traveling across the Moon-shae islands, as I was sat at a local inn. One of the ladies of the area was wearing a particularly striking dress that day, and when I asked her what it was for, she told me it was to celebrate the Earthmother, more specifically their festival celebrating the successful harvest.

The riot of color at the festival drew me in, and it struck me that these types of festivals are prevalent all across the face of Faerûn, all there for us to enjoy.

And so, we come to this very catalogue, where we celebrate the diversity and the opportunities of our beloved world. from the northern reaches of the great glaciers, the Hordelands to the east, from Maztica in the west, to the south in the realms of Chult and beyond. In all of these places, we find a celebration of life and plentiful opportunities for those of an adventurous bend. Therefore, we encourage you to open the pages of this book, peruse it at your leisure and head to your local store and pick up your favorite items, delights, and fancies.

We welcome you to Aurora's Autumn Catalogue!

See you this winter,

Aurora

Fall Fashion

For the discerning gentle-being this fall, who wishes to remain stylish AND comfortable.

Festive Dress

Price 10 gp; Weight 5 lb.

Festive dress is a combination of local color and the festive seasons. Crafted from the finest materials available, but kept within the recognizable standards of each region, each festive dress is the height of fashion wherever it is brought out. Kept strictly as a regional dress (though other regions might be available at your local store upon request), local customs-experts have been consulted in the making of the pattern for each individual dress to ensure strict adherence with local customs. In most cases this will take the form of one of 2 types of dress: One consisting of a skirt, blouse, scarf, and possible headband, with appropriate undergarments. The second consists of pantaloons, a shirt, a hat, and matching boots, again with the appropriate undergarments.

Aurora's Note: Festive dresses that were originally designed for a different region than the one you're currently in are often available at your local store for local masquerades and carnivals.

Please ask at your local store for the availability of these, as pre-orders will normally start at least a month ahead of the local event.

Oilskin Coat

Price 2 gp; Weight 5 lb.

The oilskin coat is a full-size knee-length coat, created from the finest otter leather that the North can produce, captured by expert trappers, and sewn into coats by seamstresses in Ten-Towns in Icewind Dale. It is then transported south to Silvery-moon where it is coated with oils to make it water-resistant, making it very popular amongst the people of Ruathym, sailors, and those forced to work outdoors in bad weather conditions.

Aurora's Note: We recommend getting a Sou'West to go along with the oilskin coat, for maximum comfort in rainy conditions.

Scarf

Price 2 sp; Weight 1/4 lb.

We make scarves in a variety of different colors, styles, from a few select materials. The fall is a wonderful time to keep warm in the evening, and to show off a snappy scarf. Whether you need a thick muted scarf, or a light festive shoulder wrap, we can find the right scarf for you!

Sou'West

Price 5 sp; Weight 1 lb.

The Sou'West is the preferred accessory to our popular oilskin coat. Set at a jaunty angle, this brightly-coloured leather hat will protect your hair and face from the worst weather conditions, while securely fastened underneath your chin with a strap.

Aurora's Note: We recommend getting an oilskin coat alongside the Sou'west. Please note that hurricane strength winds can rip the hat from your head, causing the strap to strangle you.

Food and Drink

All the delectable delicacies of the season, now available near you!

Candied Apples

Price 1 cp; Weight 1 lb.

These apples are covered with a caramelized sugar coating, giving them a unique flavor. Immensely popular with children, these are a staple at many local summer and autumn carnivals, and now, Aurora's has you covered in all seasons of the year. By storing them in perfect conditions, we ensure that these delicacies are available in both spring and summer too. The price includes two candied apples.

Aurora's Note: In certain parts of Faerûn, you'll be able to obtain other candied fruit, such as pears and plums. Please inquire with your local branch as to the availabilities of these. A particular favorite of Aurora herself is candied watermelon.

Chessentan Blood Curd Cheese

Price 1 cp; Weight 2 lb.

Chessentan blood curd cheese is an extremely flavorful and spicy cheese. Cream taken from goats is turned into a thick cheese, but during the aging process the blood of either goats or pigs is added to the mix, along with a secret blend of spices, all of which results in a strong, spicy cheese that can survive for years without going off. Comes as one wheel of cheese.

Aurora's Note: While chessentan blood curd cheese holds better than almost any other type of unsalted food, it is very much an acquired taste. As such, refunds are not provided.

Cocoa Powder

Price 1 gp; Weight 5 lb.

Originally cocoa powder was imported from Maztica, but the current crops are grown in Tethyr, Amn, and Calimshan where the bitter cocoa drink has proven immensely popular for its refreshing qualities when hot. Northerners tend to add in both milk and sugar, making the cocoa drink more akin to chocolate, a practice considered barbaric in the Shining South. Powdered versions of both are available at Aurora's — simply add boiling water and you can have your favorite beverage ready in minutes.

Aurora's Note: Every purchase of cocoa powder from Aurora's comes in a small, exquisitely labelled canvas bag, of 5 lb.

Cranberry Ale

Price 1 cp; Weight —

Cranberry ale is a local type of ale brewed in many places across the face of Toril. Created with a local recipe, each type of cranberry ale typically contains the usual amount of hops, depending on how strong the ale is supposed to be. To the hops mix is added a quantity of cranberries, which increase the potency of the alcoholic mix, and gives the ale the taste of cranberry itself. This mix is often considered more appropriate among polite society, for those occasion where wine is not available, and where normal ale or beer would be considered uncouth. As such, many nobles sponsor their favorite breweries who each create their own unique cranberry ale blend. The price is for a tankard of cranberry ale.

Cured Meats

Price 8 sp; Weight 1/4 lb.

We offer a variety of cured meats for traveling or storage. If you yearn for a meaty dish when the markets are barren, we have the cure for you. Cured meats! We have everything from salted fish, dried beef, and many more! This is a perfect gift that will last year round, and can even be an excellent emergency food. We encourage you to inquire about our sailor's "salty dog" discount. For a limited time, we also have an exotic meats selection brought from far away lands. Ask about our jerked displacer beast at various locations.

Gourd Spice

Price 1 sp; Weight 1 lb.

This spice is a favorite of the Sword Coast, and is heavily used during the fall season. Whether to help flavor your favorite gourd pie, or put a bit of fall flavor into your favorite hot drink, this gourd spice is becoming popular everywhere! We are currently holding a recipe contest for the most creative use of our gourd spice, so make sure you give us your entries, and we may feature your recipe in a future catalogue!

Spiced Mulberry Wine

Price 1 sp; Weight —

Spiced mulberry wine is considered a delicacy south of the Sword coast, where mulberries are common. The mulberries are squashed and treated like normal grapes for wine, but when the wine itself is set out to age, a number of spices are added to the fermenting wine, giving it a unique flavor and bouquet, with each vineyard and brewery having their own secret recipes. The price is per tallglass.

Traveler's Pie

Price 1 gp; Weight 2 lb.

Tired of the old trail rations? Iron rations giving you metal fatigue? Try our traveler's pie! The traveler's pie consists of nuts, berries, vegetables, and meats (your choice of lamb, veal, pork, and horse), all baked in a delicious sourdough, that preserves the contents for up to 2 weeks. Each pie is large enough for 3 portions for a full-grown human (usually as breakfast, lunch, and dinner). The traveler's pies are, of course, provided fresh, when you purchase them.

Aurora's note: Each store bakes a few of these each day, but if you wish to make a large order, please provide your local merchant with at least a day's warning. Each store can accommodate specific or exotic wishes for the contents of the traveler's pie. Please enquire with your local merchant as to what ingredients they can provide.

We stock some of the finest toys and games, from exquisitely crafted mundane and magical board games to enthralling toys from the farthest reaches of the Realms.

Board Games

Price 1 gp; Weight 1/2 lb.

We stock a wide variety of board games from a vast assortment of cultures throughout Faerûn. Some are laid out on branded leather while others are played out on intricately carved wooden boards. Gaming pieces come in wood, bone, metal, clay, or polished stone.

Clay Cookware Set

Price 2 sp; Weight 2 lb.

This set includes small pots, jugs, bowls, cups, and children's cutlery made of decorated and baked clay. The set comes in a wooden box.

Clockwork Dragon Race

Price 25 gp; Weight 5 lb.

This mechanical toy features four dragons mounted on wires that fly around a model of Smokespire as a crank in the side of the toy is turned. A clever clockwork mechanism inside the toy randomises the speed of each dragon, so you never know which one will win the race!

Duelling Knights

Price 5 cp; Weight —

Two colorful knights joined together by lengths of string duel when you pull their cords. The knights are made of wood.

Hockey Set

Price 4 sp; Weight 4 lb.

This set contains two hockey sticks and a wooden ball, stored in a canvas drawstring bag. Moving while hitting the ball requires a successful Dexterity (Acrobatics) check, and hitting the ball into a goal is a ranged attack. The DM determines the DC for these checks.

Knucklebones

Price 3 cp; Weight —

This set of six pointed “knucklebones” and one throwing stone are made for playing a variety of games. No matter your regional variant, these delightful pieces will accommodate your game. We also sell a number of variants on knucklebone pieces that include wooden and tin pieces. We also offer actual sheep bones for those who want an authentic experience!

Mage's Chess

Price 100 gp; Weight 2 lb.

As you play, the magically-empowered chess pieces come alive and cast spells of their own against their enemies, shattering them to pieces when you take a rivals piece. Broken playing pieces can be repaired with mending or a fabricate spell using the broken pieces as the raw material.

Marked Cards

Price 1 gp; Weight —

Crafted from strong paper stock, and covered in lacquer for maximum durability, these beautifully illustrated cards are a favorite of farmhands, miners, and workers across the very realms themselves. These marked cards originate from the Moonsea region, where, in the past, they were often used by Zhentish soldiers during campaigns. The marks are only visible from a certain angle, usually across a table or other playing surface. They are normally used to significantly increase the owner's chance of winning at cards, but woe betide the person caught using such a deck.

Aurora's Note: Aurora's takes no responsibility for any crimes or punishments that result from the use of these cards.

Nine Pins

Price 5 sp; Weight 5 lb.

This set includes a wooden or leather ball and 9 wooden pins or skittles. The skittles are set up in a 3-by-3 square and then players take turns trying to knock them down. You must succeed on a DC 16 Dexterity check to knock down pins. If you succeed, roll 1d4 to determine how many pins you knock down. If you beat the check by 5 or more, roll 1d8 instead. If your roll is a critical success you knock down all the pins.

Prestidigitator's Kit

Price 10 gp; Weight 1 lb.

Often used by street performers and hobbyists, this kit allows you to make effects similar to that of a wizard's minor magic. Smoke, flashing lights, strange phenomenon, and even flowers can suddenly appear, or living creatures hidden with proper use. A DC 11 Dexterity check is necessary to successfully employ the kit. If you are proficient with Performance, Sleight of Hand, or with the prestidigitator's kit, you can add your proficiency bonus to this check. A higher check may be necessary for more elaborate tricks or illusions, especially when in the din of battle.

Puzzle Box

Price 5 gp; Weight 1 lb.

This beautifully carved box is inlaid with mother of pearl or polished stones. The box can hold 30 coins or a vial. Opening the box for the first time requires a successful DC 20 Dexterity (Sleight of Hand). Each attempt takes 15 minutes. Once a character has opened the box they don't need to make a check again to open it in the future.

Stilts

Price 2 sp; Weight 5 lb.

This pair of stilts is 5 feet long with foot rests set a foot off the ground. You must succeed at a DC 14 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to use the stilts. If you fail you fall prone. The stilts add 1 foot to your movement speed and 1 foot to your height. For longer stilts, increase the price by 1 sp, the weight by 1 pound, and the DC by 1 for every 1 foot of length added. For example, a 9-feet long pair of stilts that adds 5 feet to your speed would cost 6 sp, would weigh 9 pounds, and would require a successful DC 18 Dexterity (Acrobatics) check to use.

Toys Weapons

Price 1 sp; Weight 1/4 lb.

Made of wood or soft metals, these smaller weapons are intended for children, and are often given to them in the hopes that they'll grow up to be fearsome warriors.

Adventuring Charter

Price 200 gp; Weight —

In certain countries and areas (Cormyr among them) adventurers must carry a permit and be registered with the authorities in case of trouble. Aurora's has, in some areas, been authorized by the locals nobility or authorities to issue these Adventuring Charters on behalf of the government. Each charter consists of a signed roster of members (delineated by race, gender, and occupation), with each member having signed the charter (An adventuring company cannot consist of more than 10 active members, though the active members can be changed a 10% fee of the original cost).

Along with the charter, up to 6 members receive a free signet ring, a peace bond (a white scarf designed to be tied into an intricate knot ensuring that weapons cannot be drawn without great difficulty), and a single banner for the group. All of these will be inscribed with the symbol or heraldry chosen by the adventuring company, subject to the approval of the local authorities.

Aurora's Note: Deliberately choosing the heraldry of another established adventuring company or a local noble is punishable by law in almost all countries, and Aurora's does not accept any liability thereof. Please allow up to 10 days for the delivery of the signet rings, peacebonds, and the banner, depending on the intricacy of the heraldry chosen.

Alchemist's Cane

Price 35 gp; Weight 3 lb.

This ingenious cane is topped-off with a vial of acid shielded by a brass orb that forms the cane's handle. A switch in the side of the cane allows the shield to open like the petals of a flower. The cane can then be used as a mace. The first attack with an alchemist's cane that hits deals 2d6 acid damage. Replacing the vial of acid is an action. An alchemist's cane can be used in the same way with alchemist's fire, but the first attack to hit also destroys the cane.

Animal Lure

Price 1 gp; Weight —

Crafted from the core of a fallen birch tree, dryads have shaped this once featureless piece of wood into a delicate instrument, capable of mimicking the sounds of a specific animal. Often used by rangers and hunters, these animal lures ensure that you'll always have a successful hunt. This adds a +2 bonus to Survival checks for hunting that specific animal.

Aurora's Note: Various lures are available in various stores, depending upon the region and the season. We always strive to have the most relevant lures in stock in the individual stores. Please inquire with the clerk about the specific availabilities for your store.

Hunting Coat

Price 10 gp; Weight 2 lb.

A hunting coat is a thick woolen coat made from the wool of the rothé that live in Icewind Dale. It's designed for keeping a hunter warm on the cold autumn and winter days. It comes in one of 2 choices of colors: A bright red, designed for large scale hunts, to avoid any risk of hunter accidentally injuring each other, and in a tri-color pattern, design in brown, green, and dull yellow colors, to allow a hunter to blend in with the autumn environment.

Aurora's Note: For maximum hunting efficiency, we recommend using the hunting coat with both the scent mask and the animal lure.

Mercenary Charter

Price 500 gp; Weight —

Similar to adventuring companies, mercenaries must be registered in almost all countries. Unlike adventurers however, mercenary charters allow for more than 10 members, and the charter must be signed by the leader(s) of the mercenary company, with an active roster provided separately. It is worth noting that unlike adventuring companies, the leaders of mercenary companies are, in most countries, held liable for the actions of the people on their roster, in the territory where the charter is signed. Further, the mercenary charter allows for the congregation of large groups of armed people, provided these do not interfere with the local authorities. Similar to adventuring companies, mercenaries should use peacebonds, but these are not provided with this charter. Along with the charter, the leader of the mercenary company will also be able to choose their heraldry and a banner will be provided. A signet ring will also be provided for the leader(s) (up to a maximum of 6).

Aurora's Note: Deliberately choosing heraldry already used by another established mercenary company or a local noble is punishable by law in almost all countries, and Aurora's does not accept any liability thereof. Please allow up to 10 days for the delivery of the signet ring and banner, depending on the intricacy of the heraldry chosen.

Port-a-Fort

Price 50 gp; Weight 60 lb.

In essence, the port-a-fort is a tower shield, but writ large. It is 10 feet wide and 8 feet tall, and has a small bench for a defender to stand on, with 2 legs to support the wall itself and prevent it from toppling over. It is created from strong hardwoods, and covered with fire-retardant chemicals, to stop flaming arrows setting the port-a-fort alight. Setting up the port-a-fort requires two people and takes a full minute to set up. Once set up, it grants you three-quarters cover, if you are shooting, or attacking over the parapet. If you are actively hiding behind it, and not exposing yourself, it grants total cover.

Quilted Cloak

Price 2 gp; Weight 2 lb.

This cloak is especially warm and doubles as a blanket.

Reversible Cape

Price 4 gp; Weight 4 lb.

This heavy hooded cape is made of two separate pieces that can be reversed and reattached, giving the impression that this is an entirely different cape altogether. The four sides come in any colors you wish, but are typically night blue, forest green, deep crimson, and oaken brown. Turning the cape around to show the inner color on the outside is an action. Taking the cape apart to change the visible colors of the cape takes 1 minute.

Scent Mask

Price 5 gp; Weight —

A scent mask is an oil created by hunters in the Great Forest to mask their own smell when hunting perceptive prey, such as deer or equally skittish animals. It comes in a small perfume bottle, and must be sprayed on any exposed flesh of the hunter, for maximum efficiency. This masks the scent of the hunter, enabling them to blend in better with the environment around them, and preventing them from leaving a scent trail wherever they go.

Aurora's Note: Concerns have been raised from bounty hunters and various officials that this prevents them from tracking criminals. This is wildly exaggerated, and any employee who sells the scent mask will have checked any outstanding bounty listings, and we only sell to accredited hunters or adventurers. Anyone purchasing this in Cormyr, who is not a local hunter, must have a valid adventuring company license.

Scout's Stave

Price 5 sp; Weight 4 lb.

This quarterstaff has several modifications that make it a versatile tool and weapon. The length is marked in feet and inches to allow for easy measurement. The bottom end is capped in steel to prevent wear. The top has a length of cord that can be fastened around the wrist or used to hook things that would otherwise be out of reach.

Seismophone

Price 20 gp; Weight 2 lb.

A seismophone consists of two distinct parts, a large wooden box, that must be set on the ground, and a large headpiece with inverted horns attached to it. Once the box is placed on the ground, and the owner has put on the headgear, they can track vibrations in the ground, by the sound that's transposed through the box. This enables a skilled user to do a few different things, most important of which are earthquake detection (giving anywhere from a few second to a few hours worth of notice), tracking nearby troop movements, and listening in on nearby conversations, though this does not require the use of the sound-box, it does require the headpiece to be pressed against any obstacles in the way, such as by holding it up to a wall, to hear a conversation on the other side of it.

Smuggler's Pouch

Price 1 gp; Weight 1 lb.

This leather pouch is flat and made to be worn underneath clothing. The inside of the pouch is well lined with fur to muffle the sound of coins within. A smuggler's pouch gives a +2 bonus to Dexterity (Sleight of Hand) checks made to conceal small items such as coins on your person. Storing or removing items from the smuggler's pouch takes 1 minute.

Stormtinder

Price 1 gp; Weight 2 lb.

Stormtinder is a modified version of the classic flint and steel. However, the flint and the steel come from the deepest mines of the Thunder Peaks, mined in areas near the old dwarf stronghold of Thunderholme. Due to the processes used when the steel and the flint is extracted, it causes the sparks generated to last much longer, making it much easier to ignite any tinder used. The tinder itself, once set alight, is also quite difficult to put out, making this an effective way of starting a fire in a storm.

Aurora's note: We caution anyone from approaching Thunderholme to extract these materials on their own. The area is known to be frequented by the undead, and rumor has that a large black dragon lives nearby as well.

Telescope Cane

Price 2,500 gp; Weight 1 lb.

This stylish cane is finished in bronze. The head of the cane contains a cleverly concealed telescope. Objects viewed through the telescope are magnified to three times their size. Setting up or putting away the telescope is an action.

Traveling Case

Price 1 gp; Weight 2 lb.

This leather boxed case is perfect for traveling. The fine brown finish is both classy and functional, and excellent whether you are traveling in style, or braving the elements. Interior leather straps are made for securing your precious belongings, and a secure latch keeps your case closed.

Umbrella

Price 7 sp; Weight 1/4 lb.

This simple device is a folding waterguard, against inclement weather. Our basic model wooden model is meant to be used for one season, and doubles as kindling in a pinch. Wet Fire

Price 2 gp; Weight 10 lb.

Chemically treated, these coals are perfect for wet and windy conditions, as they light up easily, and provide as much warmth as a normal campfire. Each bag of wet fire provides enough fuel for 3 normal campfires, each lasting 8 hours. If used to start a new fire, and then adding dry logs to it, the Wet Fire will last twice as long.

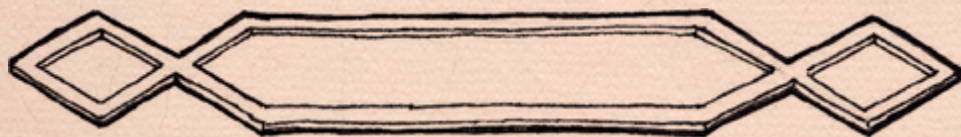

Aurora’s Note: For those worried about being discovered, wet fire can be given a special treatment, making the fire smokeless. This means that wet fire will be twice as expensive, and it can only be obtained via special order, usually requiring 1-2 extra days before delivery.

Faery Key

Price 25 gp; Weight 1/4 lb.

These objects come in all shapes and sizes, from moss covered stones to magically empowered tuning forks. Each is carved with magical symbols and runes.

Despite the name, a faery key has little to do with the fey. When held, a faery key vibrates when it comes within 10 feet of a magical aura of the kind it was created to detect. This ability functions as the detect magic spell, but the faery key loses its magical ability at the end of the round in which it detected an aura. A faery key cannot detect auras of fifth level or higher.

Highharvestide Tools

Fall is the season when most produce is harvested, and this gives rise to a number of specialized tools, which we have available here at Aurora's.

Afterseed

Price 1 gp; Weight 5 lb.

Afterseed is a type of grass, found originally on the Tuigan steppes, and cultivated by druids in various other locations, in an effort to create a fast-growing and easily replaceable fertilizer that can replenish the nourishment in the ground between the last of the harvest and the first sowing. Afterseed is sown no more than a week after the last harvest has been completed, usually before the 1st of Uktar, but before the first snows and the ground freezes, regardless of which region or country you're in. The seed then goes into hibernation until spring, at which point it blossoms once more. Afterseed quickly blooms and dies again, within the span of less than a month, and if the afterseed leftovers are plowed into the ground, when sowing the new crop, it increases the harvest by an average of 10-25%.

Aurora's Note: The harvest increase is NOT a guarantee, and the crop must still be tended properly, with plenty of water and sunshine (depending on the crop). Each sack of 5 lb covers 2 acres of ground.

Auto-picker

Price 100 gp; Weight 50 lb.

The auto-picked is a new-fangled invention from the ever-innovative minds of the Gond priesthood. This wheelbarrow sized contraption comes with 4 wheels and a grabbing arm. The brass handles on the side of the box must be worked by a strong person, one on each side of the auto-picker.

Once the autopicker is wheeled into place, and the workers start cranking the handles, the brass grabbing arm extends out from the body of the auto-picker, grabbing a firm hold of the trunk of a tree in front of it. Once grabbed, a cotton sail deploys around the tree trunk, and a funnel opens, leading into the main body of the auto-picker. Once it has a hold on the tree, the auto-picker starts shaking the tree trunk. The workers crank the handles, loosening all fruit on the tree. This sends them tumbling into the sail. They then move through the funnel into the main body of the auto-picker for later retrieval. A handle is used when the picking is completed, to loosen the grabbing arm from the tree trunk, and reset the auto-picker, so that it's ready for the next tree.

Aurora's Note: Aurora's accepts no responsibility for any damages, injuries, decapitation, magical incidents, deific anger, or planar travel that may occur as a result of using this device.

Food Preservation Equipment

Price 45 gp; Weight 30 lb.

This set of tools contains everything needed to begin your food preserve adventure! Included are everything you need to prepare your food of choice, and everything necessary to pack and preserve for any occasion! Please follow our guide for optimal preservation techniques! Our canning equipment comes in a variety of configurations depending on your food of choice. We include a dozen glass jars to start you off, but remember to buy our specially sized and shaped glass jars if you want to expand your preserve capacity!

Foldable Scythe

Price 10 gp; Weight 20 lb.

A foldable scythe is mainly a farming tool, a simple scythe, but one that's designed to be folded up when necessary, for easy storage and transportation. Highly popular in the Dales, where it was originally invented, the shaft of the scythe is made from 2 pieces of 3-foot long hardwood, with another 3-foot steel blade attached at the end. It is designed to be taken apart, and put together again when needed, a process that takes a minute whether putting it together or taking it apart.

Aurora's Note: The foldable scythe was not designed to be used as a weapon, but in times of need it is sharp and deadly. We suggest checking out our excellent weapons range for all your combat needs.

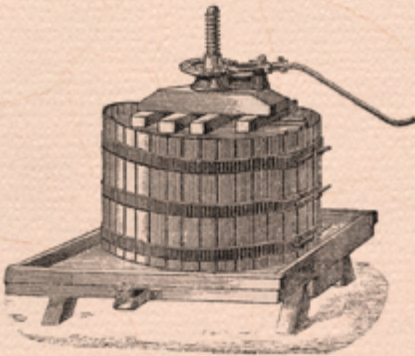

The foldable scythe is fragile when used as a weapon. If you roll a natural 1 on an attack roll with a foldable scythe, it is damaged and only does half damage after that. If already damaged, the foldable scythe is destroyed instead.

Fruit Press

Price 10 gp; Weight 20 lb.

Consisting of a large wooden tub, crafted from strong timbers, with an attachable lid, and a turnable crank, the fruit press is designed to squeeze out the juices from fruit, berries, and the like, to be decanted through a tap on the side of the tub. A separate sieve is provided to remove any pulp that may have made its way through the built-in strainer in front of the tap, inside the tub. The fruit press is used by farmers and brewers, who wish to create their own wine or add fruit juices to existing drinks and beverages, such as ciders and malts.

Aurora's Note: Please be aware that any rumors of people accidentally being squashed in the fruit press are wildly exaggerated. Anyone above the size of a child, gnome, or halfling wouldn't even fit inside.

Harvest Apron

Price 2 sp; Weight 1/4 lb.

Made especially for harvesting, this simple yet elegant apron is an excellent time saver that can make your harvests fun and productive! Whether you are enjoying a fun afternoon at a local farm, or you are a professional harvester, these aprons are especially made for you! Our new design comes with a drawstring to help keep your hands free and your harvest secure! Ask for our specialty colors to match the season, and the harvest, to avoid embarrassing stains.

Harvest Shirt

Price 8 gp; Weight 10 lb.

The harvest shirt is a particularly thin type of chain mail, sewn with great care into the shirts of farmworks all across Faerûn. While somewhat resembling armor, the rings are too thin to provide protection in combat, beyond that of leather armor. Instead, it is designed to protect from accidental damage from scythes and sickles swung by careless or overeager farmhands, often reducing potentially lethal wounds to mere scrapes. Farmhands often bring harvest shirts with them to war, as they are often given little in the way of protection.

Aurora's Note: The harvest shirt consists of both a long sleeved shirt and pants, equal to that of a leather armor. Due to the unwieldy nature of the harvest shirt, it gives disadvantage on Stealth checks.

Pocket Distillery

Price 20 gp; Weight 10 lb.

A pocket distillery (or pocket still) is a relatively small (about 3 by 4 feet) conglomeration of coils, bottles, funnels, coal burners, and taps that enable even an apprentice to brew a decent alcoholic beverage. Setting up the still takes 10 minutes, but the brewing of the beverage can take much longer, depending on the type of beverage involved. The pocket distillery comes with a brew-book, detailing recipes for 20 different, popular alcoholic beverages, running from rye whiskey to dark ale.

Aurora's Note: Aurora's accepts no responsibility for the quality of the brew created, as this very much depends on the brewer, and how closely they stick to the recipe provided and the quality of the ingredients. Please note that drinks and dungeons do not mix particularly well, especially for situations requiring stealth.

Sandbag

Price 1 sp; Weight 1 lb.

Sandbags are used to create a makeshift barricade for you to hide behind. While sand is the usual filler in the bag, these bags can be filled with any available material, such as dirt, gravel, or anything else you can think of. When filled, each sandbag is 3 feet long and 1 foot high.

Aurora's Note: Please note that the sandbags are empty when purchased. The owner must fill these on their own, with appropriate material. Shovels are available at 20% off (for a total of 8 cp, instead of the normal 1 sp), for anyone purchasing sandbags, which come in packs of 10.

Scarecrow

Price 5 sp; Weight 10 lb.

This well made and fashionably dressed scarecrow is meant to scare away crows, as the name implies. But don't be fooled, this wonderful and festive straw figure can be an excellent fixture for a farmstead or villa.

Stacking Ladder

Price 4 sp; Weight 15 lb.

This 5-foot long ladder folds in half. When extended and the catch is locked into place, it can be joined to other stacking ladders to form a longer ladder of up to 30-feet in length.

Plowshares-to-Swords

Price 60 gp; Weight 12 lb.

Plowshares-to-swords are a type of plowshare which, with the right movement, can be turned into short swords (though in most cases they will need a bit of a clean first). Each one of these consists of a typical plow, with the blades fixed into the cross-member, so that the blade of each sword will carve its own furrow. Typically this type of plow will have between 5 and 10 blades, depending on the needs of the individual farmer and farmhands. Retrieving any of the blades from the plow requires the Use an Object action, and leaves the plow itself unable to operate until the sword is replaced once more, which takes another Use an Object action to do.

Aurora's Note: It is highly recommended that the Plowshares-to-Swords are only used in areas where there is considerable danger, as the plow itself is not as capable as a normal plow, and will not provide the same consistent results, but it is the best compromise of safety and utility possible. We further recommend that the blades are cleaned and sharpened each night, for maximum efficiency, both when plowing and when defending one's land.

The price for Plowshares-to-Swords varies depending on the amount of swords that you wish for it to carry. Each sword costs 10 gp (minimum 5 swords), plus another 10 gp for the actual plow, i.e. the full Plowshares-to-Swords costs 60 gp to 110 gp.

Water Resistant Canvas

Price 6 sp; Weight 1/2 lb.

Have you heard the phrase "oil and water don't mix"? We've put that phrase to good use with the water repellant canvas, specially designed and coated with a blend of oils that repel water. Traverse rainy regions with no fear of a wet sleeping bag. Set up a food stand in the rainiest of cities and watch as people flock to your dry seats! We have outfit several traveling circuses with wonderful canvas tents so that the fun doesn't stop when the rain starts. Next time you see a circus in the rain, think of our water resistant canvas. Perfect for construction of water resistant packs.

Aurora's Note: The listed price is for one square foot of material, but make sure you buy our pre-measured patterns. We can't promise that stitched canvas will remain water resistant.

Work Hat

Price 5 sp; Weight 1 lb.

A work hat is a wide-brimmed headpiece, made from the finest Mulhorandi reeds, to provide the greatest rigidity, while giving it the strength to resist sun, rain, and wind. It comes with a leather band wound around the crown of the hat, for the wearer to store small tools.

Cooking Corner

This season we bring you something new in our ever-expanding repertoire. A new section of Aurora's, where we focus on taste, quality and the comforts of home away from home. To this end we have entered into a partnership with Passepout, a gourmet and gourmand, and one-time companion of the esteemed (and infamous) Volothamp Geddarm. Throughout his travels, Passepout has picked up unmatched abilities within the kitchens, and with the pen.

Aurora's Note: This section was written by Passepout himself. As such, the following sections have been purged as much as possible of his more "flowery" and lengthy descriptions. His abilities within the confines of the kitchen however, are only rarely matched. The prices in the following section are for all the ingredients combined, along with a recipe for the dish. Please note that we do not accept any responsibility for the ability, or lack thereof, of the cook preparing the dish.

Apple-Stuffed Berrygobbler

Price 5 sp; Weight 6 lb.

Apple-stuffed berrygobbler is a popular dish in the Heartlands, where berrygobblers are common. The berrygobblers come skinned from Aurora's, and spiced with a variety of herbs. Dried apples are provided with the dish, but the dish is far better when fresh apples are used. Berrygobblers should be stuffed with the apples, before putting them on a spit and then slowly roasting them over a campfire. They should be turned regularly to ensure that they do not burn. Due to their size, each gobbler is normally done in 15–30 minutes, depending on the size of the fire. A normal adult can generally consume 3–4 of the gobblers in a single sitting, and each serving comes with 16 berrygobblers, and enough dried apple to stuff these.

If the dried apples are not used together with the berrygobblers, then boil them all together in a liter of water, and add an ounce of sugar, and you will have an excellent dessert or breakfast for four people.

Dragonbreath Chili

Price 10 gp; Weight 1 lb.

Dragonbreath chili is an extremely potent dish, and not for the faint of heart or weak of stomach. Originally created in Maztica, it migrated to Amn and beyond sometime in the 1300s DR — though no one is sure when — however it seems to coincide with when chilis were introduced to the Sword Coast. Dragonbreath chili consists of three different types of chili, two types of strong pepper, and various herbs. These are all ground together and provided in sealed packages for the buyer. Simply add half a liter of boiling water, and you have enough for one person.

This dish warms you both inside and out, causing you to sweat profusely, and can, on occasion cause the imbiber to emit a gout of flame, if they can manage to hold down the dish. There are enough packages within a bag of dragonbreath chili to serve four normal adult humans.

Aurora's Note: This is an extremely strong dish, and not one that everyone can eat. Eating the dish requires a DC 12 Constitution saving throw. Anyone failing the saving throw is poisoned for 10 minutes. Succeeding on the saving throw means that the imbiber can emit a 10-foot line of flame once in the next hour, causing 2d6 points of fire damage to anyone caught in the area, but 1d6 points of fire damage to the imbiber.

Feywine Basted Deep Rothé

Price 20 gp; Weight 5 lb.

Feywine basted deep rothé comes with enough ingredients for four servings and consists of: four deep rothe steaks, preboiled potatoes, assorted vegetables of the season, and a bottle of feywine.

In many areas of the Underdark, deep rothe are considered to be a staple of the diet, and surface dwellers will often find that the meat is more tender than the beef from normal rothé or oxen. However, while this is the case, only rarely is the meat given the chance to truly shine in a dish, which I, Passepout, will address here.

The steaks must be basted with the feywine at least four hours before the meal is to be eaten. Sprinkle it gently with the spices provided, and allow the vegetables to simmer for an hour. For best results, serve with chilled winterwine, but for lack of better, any non-connoisseur should settle for ice-cold water, to preserve the flavor of the meat.

Gelatinous Cube Jello

Price 2 gp; Weight 4 lb.

Unlike most of the dishes provided by Aurora's, this recipe does NOT include all the ingredients needed to make the dish. Anyone wishing to partake in this delicacy would need to provide their own gelatinous cube. The package comes with a number of fruits, herbs, spices, and food coloring to make the dish stand out but not in terms for flavor and in terms of appearance. Importantly, it also contains an alchemical fluid that counteracts the acidic properties of the gelatinous cube, rendering its "flesh" harmless. The ingredients provided are enough to prepare an entire gelatinous cube (a LOT of stirring is needed however for that amount of "flesh", typically taking at least half an hour), which can feed a company of 20 normal humans. Typically, however, the cube is split up, to serve smaller amounts of people. Please note that a gelatinous cube MUST be prepared and imbibed in this manner or the gelatinous cube becomes inedible.

The meal itself is a riot of colors, with all the colors of the rainbow present, with the fruit inside the gelatinous mass providing a contrast to the soft jelly-like "flesh" of the cube. It is, in and off itself, a very sweet dish, with sugars and cinnamon being particularly prevalent. Other fruit can be added to your own liking, but generally fresh fruit like pears and plums work best.

Aurora's Note: Please note that some customers have tried to use the alchemical fluid to counteract the acids of a living gelatinous cube (and other forms of oozes). These attempts have all failed and have in some cases led to the demise of the customer. The acidic production of a living ooze, regardless of size, is too much for the fluid to counteract.

Glacier Lichen Soup

Price 1 sp; Weight 2 lb.

Glacier lichen soup is made with lichen harvested in the regions near the Great Glacier. These have been air dried for transportation to warmer climes, and while generally used for livestock (particularly deer) near the Great Glacier, the rest of the world has finally opened its eyes to the nourishing qualities of the Glacier Lichen Soup. Consisting mainly of 2 pounds of dried lichen, a number of herbs have been added, in particular basil and oregano, giving the soup a tart and strong taste. It's best enjoyed with bread (though when dipped, even dry or almost stale bread works well), as this adds extra filler to an otherwise nourishing, but not particularly satisfying dish. A hearty mead goes well with it. Each bag of lichen contains enough for four people.

Aurora's Note: Some people have had allergic reactions to the Glacier Lichen Soup. Aurora's accepts no responsibility for these cases. Others find that it makes for an excellent way to stave off exhaustion from cold. Anyone eating Glacier Lichen Soup counts as wearing cold weather gear for the next 2 hours, for the purposes of exposure to cold.

Mammoth Ribs

Price 3 gp; Weight 40 lb.

Mammoth Ribs are a treat rarely enjoyed outside the areas and countries near the High Ice or the Vilhon Reach. Mammoths are incredibly stubborn and notoriously difficult to kill, but the regional tribes have managed to find ways of doing so, and are able to use all parts of the animal. For someone unfamiliar with Mammoth however, they'll often find that the meat tastes unpleasant or that it has a very springy and slightly odd texture to it. That is only because they have never tried Mammoth Ribs! Simply put, this is an enormous meal, suitable for a whole family for nigh-on a week.

The Mammoth Ribs come pre-seasoned with spices, and need only a trip into the campfire

(they are wrapped in special sheets of waxed paper that do not catch fire while the meat is roasting), but cooking them is a slow process, as they need a high temperature for almost 8 hours. Some give them only 4 hours, but have them places without the waxed paper, directly into the embers, which gives it a smoky aftertaste. Once done, enjoy the finest Ribs you'll have on the face of Toril!

Marinated and Breaded Dunchow

Price 1 gp; Weight 1 lb.

The marinated and breaded dunchow is a delicacy from the areas surrounding lake Esmel in Amn, especially in the communities with a high percentage of halflings. The dunchow itself is a sought after fish, making this dish a rarity, often used for special celebrations, such as a coming of age ceremony for a young adult.

The dish comes with a bag of breadcrumbs, and all the spices needed to make the marinade, as well as the fish itself. All that is needed is half a liter of water. First, mix the water with the spices and leave the dunchow to marinate in the mix for at least 4 hours (a day is better, but 4 hours is the minimum), after which roll the dunchow in the batter. Then either pan fry it or leave it in an oven for an hour (oven is preferred, as it preserves the taste better). Best served with a bold red wine.

Aurora's Note: Please note that marinated and breaded dunchow only comes with enough for one meal for a single average human adult.

Underdark Luminescent Broth

Price 5 gp; Weight 4 lb.

Serving enough for four people, the Underdark luminescent broth is almost more of a stew than it is a broth, as it becomes quite thick. Consisting of 6 different types of Underdark fungi, all that needs to be added is 2 liters of water, and a pot in which to boil it. Once boiled, for 30 minutes, the broth becomes a thick, luminescent blue that lights up the nearby area, bathing everything within 5 feet in a pale blue light. The stew itself is thick and filling, with a slightly bread-like taste. But its most prominent property is the fact that it enables anyone consuming it to see in the darkness of the Underdark for an hour!

Aurora's Note: The darkvision granted by the Underdark Luminescent Broth extends out for only 5 feet. Each package of the Broth also comes with an optional book, allowing a purchaser to identify the mushrooms within the stew, so that they can be found in the wild. (This grants advantage on Wisdom (Survival) checks when identifying the mushrooms in the stew). This optional book can be declined, reducing the price of the broth to 3 gp.

White Rothé Haunch

Price 5 gp; Weight 8 lb.

Ghost rothé or white surface rothé are incredibly rare, and difficult to catch due to their magical abilities. However, their meat is delicious and extremely succulent. The white rothé haunch has been specially prepared for transportation and can last weeks without going off before cooking. When ready to prepare the meal, spit the haunch and roast it slowly over an open fire. Typically, this takes 2–3 hours, but this can be checked by cutting the meat slightly. If the juices are clear, then the meal is ready. Best enjoyed with potatoes or rice, with a light creamy sauce (sold separately for 2 cp each).

Aurora's Note: Due to the magical properties of the white rothé the meat retains some hallucinogenic properties. Anyone eating this delicious meal is subject to mild delusions, and for the next hour, they have disadvantage on all saving throws against illusion spells.
